

Philip J. Cross, Ph.D.

phil@kenyon-consulting.com

+1 (202) 255-7781

kenyon-consulting.com

Phil is Kenyon Consulting's principal and founder. He has over 20 years' experience as an economist and statistician in academia, government and consulting.

His consulting experience includes opining in large class-action litigations, antitrust matters, breach-of-contract matters and employment discrimination matters.

He is widely recognized as being an effective testifying, able to break down complex economics ideas and empirical findings into plain English.

Phil has his Ph.D. in Economics from the University of Wisconsin, has taught at Georgetown, Johns Hopkins and the University of Melbourne and published in top journals.

PHIL'S EXPERTISE COVERS Class actions, antitrust, complex econometric and statistical analyses, health-care economics, conjoint-survey design and sampling, data-integrity analysis, employment discrimination, economic damages, breach of contract. As well as in the U.S., Phil has worked on matters in Australia, Canada, Germany, Guyana and the U.K.

Experience

- Retained as an economic and statistical expert in litigation matters in both U.S. District courts and state courts. Phil has opined in antitrust, class action, breach-of-contract, employment discrimination, and regulatory matters.
- Litigation support experience includes conducting and critiquing conjoint surveys, performing market definition analyses, analyzing pay and performance data to identify employment discrimination, computing economic damages totaling billions of dollars, calculating damage distributions to Class members based on observable characteristics, analyzing medical claims data to identify fraud.
- Experience in the automotive, probation provision, health care, financial services, energy supply, telecommunications, airline, insurance, higher education and defense industries.